MASTERSGEL

The revolutionary new cushion court system

POWERED BY

PLANTS 1

ENZYMES 2

GEL 3

Since 1969, Laykold by Advanced Polymer Technology has continuously revolutionized the acrylic sports court world with quality and innovation. Laykold systems are a diverse, world class series of court surfaces that is unmatched in their durability and performance. Now, the Laykold Masters series of courts has gone a step further using green technology to develop a system that outlasts the competition and is truly environmentally friendly.

Take a close look at this green technology and how the gel system works:

It all starts with plants which are harvested and their oils extracted. All natural enzymes are then used to modify the molecular structure of the extracted oils. This process maintains the oils natural characteristics.

As a result of this process, the true magic begins and a gel is created. The gel provides a shock absorbing monolithic renewable core for Laykold surfaces. Regardless of your sport, Laykold Masters Gel provides comfort and world class performance.
